Construction Possible in Large Area Without Harm or Undue Cost - Engineer

A study by Horner & Shifrin, Inc., consulting engineers — announced at a press conference today — concludes that a 5,700-acre area in the Mitchell-Ponoon Beach vicinity can be satisfactorily developed for residential, light industrial and light commercial use.

Brucker and Associates, consulting engineers, assisted in the detailed analysis.

The findings contain specific recommendations for working with the existing soils for earthwork, foundations, residential building, commercial and industrial construction, paving and sewer construction.

A statement by Edwin R. Breihan, executive vice-president, and Donald C. Lochmoeller, principal associate, both of Horner & Shifrin, said, "Using techniques and procedures outlined in the report, the study area can be developed at reasonable cost."

The area surrounds on all four sides the intersection of Interstate 270 and Illinois Route 111.

The study was announced publicly today and presented to Dr. Robert L. Koepke of the Social Science Department at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Its title is, "Guide to Development of a Part of the American Bottoms in Madison County, Illinois, Subject: Soils."

Based upon this preliminary soils investigative work, it is concluded that the site can be satisfactorily developed at reasonable cost for residential, light commercial and light industrial uses.

"The major problem associated with development is the possibility of settlement and movement of the plastic surface soils. These conditions have been experienced in the many surrounding areas previously developed in the American Bottoms."

"Suitable foundations for the proposed developments could be either shallow spread footings for light construction or pile foundations, such as driven piling, or pressure-grouted piling for heavier construction."

"Pre-loading of various portions of the site can be readily accomplished."

"If carefully monitored, this will permit the use of shallow foundations in lieu of pile foundations and will perform as satisfactorily as in normal upland areas."

"Because of the nature of the subsurface conditions including ground water, the construction of sewer lines will require some special consideration, but can be satisfactorily handled if proper consideration is given during the design stage."

"Basements will be feasible in many of the areas which are being developed."

Subdrains should be installed around basement walls to drain off accumulating seepage.

"Pump pumps will add increased protection against seepage into basements and should be considered where basements are constructed. Split-level construction would be practical for residential areas."

Purpose of the report is to "investigate and analyze soil conditions in a part of the American Bottoms, a area of Madison County and make recommendations as to procedures that should be followed for construction of residential, light commercial and light industrial developments on these properties."

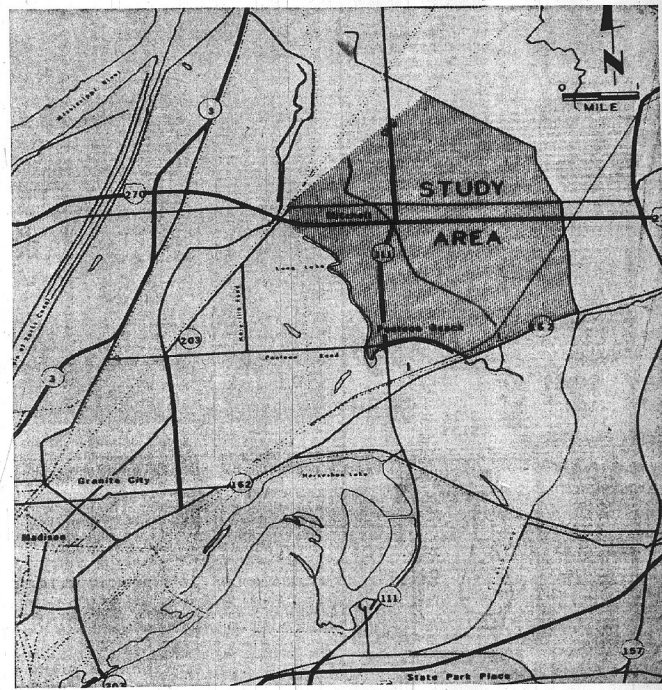

Development cost due to soil conditions is discussed and a method of providing stormwater drainage for the site is presented.

The study area includes land starting at Mitchell-enclosed by the Norfolk and Western Railroad tracks on the northwest; the County ditch and the Cahokia canal on the northeast and east; the Chicago and North-western and the Norfolk and Western tracks on the south; and Long Lake on the south and west.

Three Die in Auto, Motorcycle Crashes

Phillip John Stengel, 11, of Cahokia, suffered fatal injuries and three other persons were injured in a three-car crash at 7:35 p.m. Friday at 26th Street and Madison Avenue.

The Stengel boy was riding in an auto driven by his brother Donald B. Stengel, 18, of Cahokia, attempting a left turn, when it collided with an auto driven by Thomas Keck Jr., 27, of 2661 E. 28th St.

The Keck auto spun across the street and struck the parked auto of George Mathenia, 3025 Edgewood Ave.

The two drivers and Barbara Jean Stengel, 12, a sister, were injured. All were taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Phillip Stengel was treated for extensive lacerations to the face and a fracture of the right leg and was transferred to Cardinal Glennon Memorial Hospital, St. Louis, where he was pronounced dead.

Keck had pains to the chest, right arm, knees, head and face and was released following x-rays. Donald Stengel was admitted, with abrasions to the forehead, which had hit the steering wheel. The Stengel girl was admitted with lacerations to the nose and right cheek and head pains.

Firemen were called to the accident scene to wash gasoline off the pavement.

An inquest is pending in St. Louis.

Traffic Deaths Rise Over 17 in 1972

Three traffic fatalities in separate accidents during the weekend brought to seven the total number of traffic deaths so far this year in the Quad City area or involving area residents in other localities.

This year's fatalities include three in January, one in February and three so far in March.

Last year there were three fatalities in January, three in February, but none during the first half of March.

Dale Evan Judeman, 16, of 2711 Kirkpatrick Homes, was killed, and three other persons were injured when his motorcycle collided with an auto driven by Dorothy Johnson, 47, of 2145 Fehling Road, at 12:20 p.m. Saturday as the Johnson car was making a left turn off Nameoki Road into the Nameoki Village shopping center.

The youth was pronounced dead upon arrival at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Injured were his sister, Barbara Judeman, 18, of the Kirkpatrick Homes address, who was a passenger on the motorcycle, Mrs. Johnson and a passenger in her auto, Mrs. Delpha Peach, 72, of 1317 Oriole St., Venice.

Mrs. Brenda G. Stephens, 20, of 4860 Warnock Ave., was killed at 8 a.m. Saturday and her husband, Clarence J. Stephens Jr., 22, sustained injuries in a car-truck collision on U.S. 67 in Warren County, Ill. The accident occurred six miles south of Roseville in West-Central Illinois, near Macomb.

Illinois State Police said Mrs. Stephens was a passenger in a 1972 auto, operated by her husband, traveling north on U.S. 67, which collided head-on with a southbound tractor-trailer truck driven by Wayne H. Hardin, 35, of Primghar, Iowa.

Mrs. Stephens was pronounced dead at the scene. Her husband was treated at McDonough District Hospital in Macomb and released Saturday afternoon.

The couple was enroute to Cedar Rapids, Iowa, to visit relatives, a family spokesman said today.

State troopers said that Stephens' car and Hardin's truck collided head-on. Both vehicles sustained heavy damage and ended up on the west shoulder of the highway, police said.

Hardin, who suffered minor injuries, refused treatment and was released, police reported.

Mrs. Stephens was born in Grafton, Ill. She and her husband were married about 2 1/2 years ago. She was a member of St. Elizabeth Catholic Church.

Besides her husband, she is survived by her parents, Mr.

Fatal Shooting at Tavern

Charles T. Howland, 30, of 2337 Lincoln Ave., was shot and wounded fatally during an altercation at the Wayside Tavern, 2160 Washington Ave., at 10:38 p.m. Saturday.

He died at 2:35 a.m. Sunday in the intensive care unit of St. Elizabeth Hospital following surgery. He sustained a bullet wound to the chest.

Charged with voluntary manslaughter was Jack Moody, 38, of 5 Fontainebleau Drive, Pontoon Beach, who listed his occupation as a bartender.

Moody appeared voluntarily at the Granite City police station shortly after the shooting was reported, placed a revolver on a desk and told police that he had shot Mr. Howland, according to the police report.

He walked into the squad room and asked that the ambulance be sent to the Wayside Tavern, saying, "I just shot Charles Howland. It was an accident," officers said.

Police found Mr. Howland lying in a pool of blood, face up, with his head facing the front door.

Officers took taped and written statements from eight witnesses to the shooting.

A lifelong resident of Granite City, Mr. Howland, was employed through the Iron Workers Local.

He is survived by two sons, Charles Jr. and Richard Howland, both of Granite City; five brothers, John, Luther, Wayne and Larry Howland, all of Granite City, and Ronald Howland of El Paso, Tex.; five sisters, Mrs. Charlotte Minks, Mrs. Priscilla Blakeburn, Mrs.

Patricia Maxwell, Mrs. Sheila Chronister and Mrs. Maxine Jurgens, all of Granite City; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Howland of Granite City. Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Economical Grading, Channel Excavating

Today's Horner-Shifrin water level study made these points:

Based on groundwater observations, it can be stated that groundwater levels are at considerable depth below the ground surface during the entire year. Such conditions are favorable to site development.

Because of favorably low groundwater conditions, it can be stated that in general, site grading using materials excavated from lakes and channels can be done "in the dry" and therefore rather economically.

While groundwater conditions generally would allow excavation of lakes and channels with considerable facility, there has been little excavation of this type done in the study area.

However, a limited amount of such work was done in recent years in connection with construction of Interstate Highway 270.

At that time, an excavation was made to obtain fill material for bridge approaches for the Illinois Terminal Railroad and a roadway near the eastern edge of the study area.

According to the contractor for this work, fill material for the approach embankments to both of these highway crossings was obtained from an area about 1,500 feet south of I-270 and just east of the railroad track. This location is in the Darwin-Kamak clay soils.

The excavation covered an area of 16 acres with dimensions 800 by 900 feet and was reportedly excavated to a depth of about eight feet.

The material was reportedly excavated and placed economically with conventional scraper equipment. Operations were carried out somewhat by spreading and discing procedures necessary to reduce the natural moisture content of the soils prior to compaction in the fill.

This procedure was somewhat hampered at the bridge approach embankments due to the confining nature of the relatively narrow fill surface.

Knowledge of historical groundwater levels during the season when unusual rainfall occurs is important in that such levels determine the maximum practicable depth of storage of stormwater runoff which might be achieved in a reservoir system.

Such maximum depth serves as an important guide to determining the minimum land area which should be allocated to storage of stormwater runoff.

In order to determine the groundwater which could be reasonably expected to coincide with a major storm, minimum depths in the wells were tabulated for the May through August period for each of the years of record.

These minimum readings were averaged for each observation well. It was determined that the average minimum groundwater depth below ground surface ranged from 11.7 to 23.9 feet.

Based on this result, it is clear that groundwater levels would be at least 11 feet below the ground surface at the time of a major storm.

Since a lake and channel system would probably have a normal depth just a few feet below the ground surface, the groundwater level would not affect the volume of space available for stormwater storage above normal lake and channel surface.

The May-August period was selected for this determination because the greatest storms of record since the year 1915 have occurred during this period of the year.

Because of the favorable groundwater levels, lake and channel excavation generally can be made economically using earth-moving equipment of the scraper type.

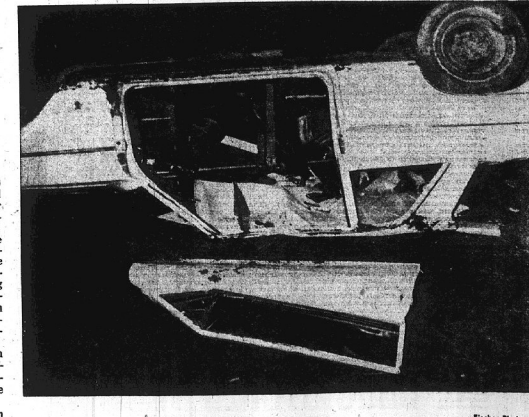

Issues Justify Debate--Schuler

A new call for a debate was issued today by Alderman Paul Schuler, a candidate for mayor in the April 3 Granite City election.

"While I have not made the condition of the other candidate's health an issue in the campaign, the statement issued last week by him covering his health cannot go unanswered for the simple reason that it—along with other statements of his during the campaign—is not true."

"The plain and simple truth is that he, unfortunately, suffered a stroke and other medical complications which have left him partially paralyzed."

"He has been absent from practically all City Council meetings during the last half

Legislators Face Bitter 'Battle of the Colleges'

By KEN WATSON
Copley News Service
Springfield — The "battle of the colleges" is heading for Springfield.

It is becoming increasingly evident that the 1973 legislature will be faced with some hard and far-reaching decisions concerning higher education in Illinois.

The fight "probably will be a bitter one. Some dynasties may topple. Some promising careers may be ended. Some colleges could even be closed."

It is possible that before the higher education system in Illinois may be restricted, both administratively and in a redefinition of goals and purposes.

The colleges issue has been simmering beneath the Statehouse dome for months, but it has been trumpeted into battle with last weekend's recorded radio speech and subsequent statements by University of Illinois President John E. Corbally.

His blunt comments brought into the open the fierce behind-the-scenes differences between Corbally and James B. Holderman, executive director of the Illinois Board of Higher Education.

Corbally joined open battle with Holderman over the latter's pushing of a proposed Lincoln State University. Termed "services without walls," it would provide for the earning of degree through study at various institutions.

Corbally charged that the proposed college is "an absolutely unnecessary structure" and a "duplication" of services already provided by the U. of I. and other existing universities.

But this issue is just the tip of the iceberg. The U. of I. hierarchy has long been fretting about what it considers a secondary status beneath the state board. There is a sincere feeling at Champaign-Urbana and one shared by other educators not connected with the university, that the U. of I.'s traditional role as one of the nation's great universities is being undermined and slowly destroyed because of limitations forced on it by the board.

Since the creation of the State Board and a steady expansion of its powers and operation, fears have been expressed freely among U. of I. people at all levels that the institution is being pulled down into a more of mediocrity than will place it at the bottom of the Big Ten prestige ladder.

Corbally, with the obvious if quiet approval of the university's board of trustees, is going on the offensive in an effort to reverse the tide.

The issue soon will be joined in legislative hearings on the budget, bills for proposed construction and expansion at various colleges.

The U. of I. effort to check Holderman and, perhaps, get rid of the State Board of Higher Education itself, could find an ally in new Gov. Dan Walker. The board and Holderman enjoyed support from former Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie.

Democrat Walker likes to do things his own way and knows that Holderman, who before entering the educational field, was active in GOP politics.

districts where other state colleges are situated always have been slightly resentful of the state board's power, might well ally themselves with the U. of I. people to regain some of the "clout" once exercised by so-called "university senators."

Specialized Services Hears Survey Results

A mail survey to determine the needs of handicapped persons in the Quad-City area has been completed and telephone surveys and personal visits are to begin soon, Mrs. Henry Hellrich, a member of the Specialized Services Advisory Council told the council members during a meeting last week at Lurgan Hall, 1801 Spruce St.

During the mail survey, 300 letters were sent out, with 32 replies received. Twenty of those responding indicated interest in participating in the Specialized Services program.

The board voted to advertise the survey in the Press-Record to spur a community awareness of the agency and its activities.

Mrs. Morris and Albert Beedle made donations to cover the expenses.

Morris reported he is stiding possible means for financing a new building for the agency.

The council nominated Henry Hellrich as a board member from the Quad-City area, filling a vacancy created by the resignation of Evelyn Gavin. Linda Mills, workshop director, reported she has obtained work contracts from Chris-Kay Plastics Manufacturing Co. in Madison, and from Scherhorn Brothers Co., St. Louis, to hire handicapped persons from the Specialized Services program.

Others in attendance were President Darryl Few, board members Ed Stone, Gene Tondre and Ralph Yem, and council members Albert Beedle, Mrs. Melba Grady, Mrs. Dorothy Lewski, Audrey Lewis, Mrs. Hilde Few, Mrs. Hazel Nyman, Mrs. Cecelia Kennedy, Catherine Murphy, Henry Hellrich, Linda Mills and Loraine Hamm.

State Secretaries Are More Than Just 'Pretty'

By GARY KOCH
Copy News Service

Springfield — "Behind every great man, there is a woman." Whoever made that statement, might have had the secretaries and receptionists of the Illinois state offices in mind. Amid the hustle and bustle of executive and legislative activities in Springfield, female employees are often the silent partners in governmental events in the capital city.

They make no headlines, none are interviewed on television, and few, if any, are known outside their respective offices, yet many of these women are directly involved in the making of news.

Secretaries and receptionists are seldom mentioned, and when they are, it is usually in a derogatory manner. "All secretaries have to do is smile a lot and look pretty," is a common complaint made against them.

"They do smile a lot, and they are pretty. But they also put in a full day's work as any visitor to a state office can verify. Alberta Doud, personal secretary to Gov. Dan Walker, begins her work day at 8 a.m. and often ends it at 6:30 or 7 p.m. Her job is largely one of public relations, and also such tasks as answering correspondence and the telephone.

Miss Doud pointed out that she probably handled 20 phone calls a day and spoke to at least 20 people. After working for the state nine years before becoming Gov. Walker's personal secretary, Miss Doud described her job as "fascinating."

She answered the secretary stereotype with the comment "It's not true. We don't just sit around 'being pretty,' we all have a specific job to do."

Miss Doud sees the role of secretary in governmental work as extremely important. "We are vital. We are the closest contacts to the persons we are working for."

Margaret Morrison, a receptionist for Governor Walker, described her job as consisting of typing letters, greeting people, answering correspondence and giving out information. "Our busiest time used to be from noon until 2:30 but lately we have begun to get busy at 8:45."

Miss Morrison pointed out that she greets probably 20 to 25 persons a day and answers the phone "every two minutes."

Miss O'Day, personal secretary to Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett, begins her day at 8 a.m. and often finishes work at 6 or 6:30 p.m.

She described her work as answering mail, making appointments and drawing up schedules. "The amount of calls we have is tremendous, often numbering 100 a day. When Mr. Howlett is in his office, it is even worse."

The amount of mail also is heavy, she related. "It seems to come in tons."

Miss O'Day, who had worked for the state in many capacities before becoming Howlett's personal secretary in 1961, stated that the current scene in his office is one of "bedlam."

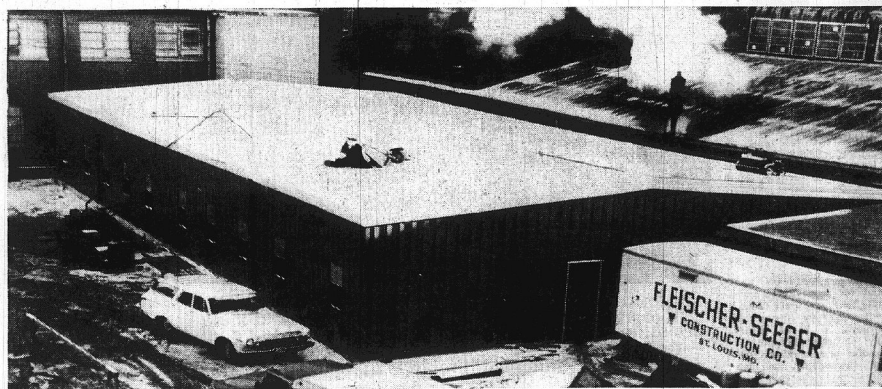

"Now is the busy season with the Legislature in session and the license plate deadline this month."

Nancy Ramey, personal secretary to Comptroller George Lindberg, agreed that now is the busy season.

"Right now a lot of people are applying for jobs. We have to go through all their resumes."

As listed her other activities as answering phone calls which amount to four an hour, answering letters and correspondence, and making out schedules.

It is evident that secretaries and receptionists in the state offices do not lead the "life of Riley." Sometimes, they might even have to accept the fact (shudder) that they work harder than men do.

NEW PRODUCTION CONTROL BUILDING at Granite City Steel Co. is nearing completion. This view is to the south from Works Office No. 1, the corner building at 20th Street and Madison Avenue, from where the production control staff will move. The industrial relations office will move to No. 1 from Works Office No. 2 (visible behind the new structure). This will create room for the systems staff to move from the State Street central offices in order to be adjacent to the data processing center in Works Office No. 2.

The new building, occupying part of a parking lot, is a Stran-Steel structure, made by a unit of National Steel Corp., owner of Granite City Steel.

Fireplace Performance Depends on Fuel Types

By WAYNE B. SIEFFERT

A small fire in your fireplace is a touch of the past that all of us enjoy.

Much of the heat value of wood is lost in heating the great volume of air that passes out of the room through the chimney. But as long as a fireplace provides a cheerful fire with a minimum of effort, disorder and smoke, most of us are more than willing to disregard its inefficiencies.

Forestry experts say good performance of your fireplace depends to a great extent on the type of wood that you burn. These experts report apple, beech, black locust, hedge apple (osage orange), hickory, oak, pear, and sugar maple as best. And cottonwood as the worst.

All of these perform best, even cottonwood, if they have cured-out through a summer season. Piled and split wood will cure better than fallen wood on the ground.

Oak and maple are local favorites because the lasting quality of the wood and high heat production. Oak burns hot with lots of flames but does not last as long.

Pine and walnut are selected for their aroma as they burn. Apple and pear wood produce a great deal of "crackling" and popping to provide a realistic feature to the campfire image.

A large parakeet, with a bluish-green tail known as a "Monk" parakeet has become one of our newest native birds. Monk parakeets normally live in temperate areas of South America, but have been introduced by the pet-shop industry have escaped or been released.

These monkeys have become pests in some areas, appearing as small flocks scattered throughout the N-E portion of the United States, particularly in cities and urban areas. Small flocks have been seen in Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, Minnesota and North Dakota.

The casual observer will describe the Monk parakeet as a large, green parakeet about a foot long. Their bodies are generally green with blue and gray heads.

Officials in Illinois are interested in these birds because they think these birds are a potential threat to fruit crops and such grain crops as corn, sorghum and sunflower. In their natural range in South America these birds are an economic pest to apple and peach crops and above mentioned grains.

If you see a flock of large parakeets at your bird feeder or living in your neighborhood, write to Gary Larson, Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, Room 22, 600 E. Monroe St., Springfield, Ill. 62701.

SIUE Nursing School to Feel U. S. Budget Cuts

Cuts proposed in President Nixon's budget for the 1974 fiscal year will mean the termination of psychiatric nursing grants and loss of faculty positions at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, according to Dr. Lucille McClelland, Nursing Division dean.

"This also will mean the elimination of training grants for graduate students. We have the only nursing school in southern Illinois, and if our traineeships are discontinued, it will affect many of our students," she said.

Dean McClelland met with nursing students, faculty and staff to discuss the effect budget cuts would have on the SIUE nursing program, and to make suggestions for viable opposition to the cuts.

Appropriations for construction grants also will be eliminated under the proposed budget cuts.

"This will seriously affect a new nursing facility, and we don't have adequate physical needs now," the dean said.

The President's budget for 1974 also eliminates all support for nursing research and research training now available to SIUE, Dean McClelland said.

Grants to schools of nursing will be cut in half for the remainder of this fiscal year (January through June, 1974) and deleted altogether for the 1974 fiscal year.

Special project grants now in operation will probably be depleted, but no new ones will be funded, according to Dean McClelland.

She suggested at the meeting that small groups meet face-to-face with their congressmen and senators to present their views, and write letters to the President, the President and Secretary Weinberger of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

region in which the study area is located," today's Horner & Shiff report related.

"This plan calls for a variety of land uses within the American Bottoms and proposes that a sizeable area presently zoned agricultural continue to be reserved for agricultural pursuits.

"This agricultural area is bounded on the north by South Roxana, on the east generally by State Highway 157, on the south by the Madison County line and on the west by State Highway 111. The study area is located wholly within the north central portion of this agricultural area.

"The proposed use of this land for agricultural purposes, rather than for higher use purposes is based generally on the reported internal flooding of stormwater, low soil permeability, and high shrink-swell characteristics of the clay soil.

"While these conditions present a number of problems to urbanization of the area, such problems can generally be overcome and at reasonable cost.

"SMAAPC indicates that the soils have 'severe' limitations for selected urban uses; however, as stated in its soils report: 'A severe rating does not mean the soil cannot be used for a specific use, but that careful planning and design and very good management are needed. In some cases, the limitations may not be economically feasible to correct.'

"The U. S. Department of Agriculture, Soil Conservation Service (SCS) identifies the surface soils of the study area as class of the Darwin-Karmuk Association and offers several explanatory comments applicable to their soil ratings, including the following: 'Severe or very severe ratings do not imply that the site cannot be changed to remove, correct or modify the soil limitation. The use of soils with these ratings depends on the kind of soil limitation, whether or not the limitation can be altered successfully and the scarcity of good sites.'

"Thus it is clear that recent investigations of the area recognize that problems exist but also that solutions exist. These solutions require sound planning and engineering.

"Recommending specific findings and conclusions by others, a preliminary soils investigation and evaluation of the study area has been carried out. The results of the work and recommendations are herewith presented."

"He cannot drive a car. He cannot go upstairs or walk unaided.

"We are unable to attend to the normal duties of his office and has been unavailable to the public for months.

"However, the other candidate's health is not one of the main issues of this campaign.

"The issues have been and remain, the loss of jobs, the run-down condition of our Downtown, the utter failure of the other candidates to keep any of his campaign promises, the loss of faith by the citizens of our town in the mayor's office, the loss of morale in our police and fire departments and the numerous street and sewer problems.

"These and the other issues that I have previously spoken about remain the central issues to be discussed by myself and the other candidate.

"I therefore renew my request that Mayor Donald P. Requey meet me in one or more public debates before an audience composed of citizens of our town to discuss our positions on the issues of the campaign."

Pythian Temple Asks For Zoning Change

A request by Marvin Barnes, president of the Granite City Pythian Temple Assn., for rezoning of 1947 Cleveland Blvd., to C2 Commercial from the present R-1 single-family dwelling, is to be considered by the Granite City Plan Commission at its regular meeting at 1:15 p.m. Thursday.

Other requests to be considered are those of Gwendolyn O'Guin, asking for R-3 rather than R-1 at 2219 Richmond Ave., and Marshall Brooks, asking for R-3 zoning at 2124 Lincoln Ave., rather than the present R-3.

The Plan Commission makes recommendations on zoning changes to the Granite City Council which then either approves or disapproves of specific requests.

Sometimes we run into a real Age plot even in such ancient fables as the Arabian Nights. The Enchanted Horse was a fast, high-flying horse which was controlled by knots — one for flying and one for landing.

A handsome and daring Persian Prince, mounted the Enchanted Horse for a trial flight and turned the flying knob. Many hours later a thousand miles away, he landed in the courtyard of the beautiful Princess of Bengal. In due time she agreed to fly back to Persia with him for their wedding at the family palace. But a wicked Hindu magician, who owned the Enchanted Horse, kidnapped the princess for revenge and flew with her to another distant country, which was ruled by a Sultan. The Sultan captured them and disposed of the Hindu — then decided to marry the princess himself.

The princess pretended madness and the Sultan sent word to all countries that a rich reward awaited any physician who could cure his princess — so that he could marry her. The prince disguised himself as a physician and slipped into the Sultan's country. He announced that he could restore her sanity but that he would need the Enchanted Horse as part of the treatment — then disappeared into a cloud of smoke and flew back to Persia in a couple of hours, where they lived happily.

RIISING TO THE OCCASION, Ron Henry (52), high-scoring 6-5 junior, aims for the goal in this view of Thursday's Venice-Lebanon regional game

Venice Wins Regional Cage Crown, To Meet Nokomis Tuesday in Sectional

The Venice High School Red Devils won their first regional basketball championship Friday when they put Lovejoy of Brooklyn away 54-46 at Dupo. They advanced to the Vandalia Sectional Tournament and will play Nokomis at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

"We were ready for this one against Lovejoy," Venice Coach Bill Oltendorf said. "Our team played one great ball game. Lovejoy did not get a chance to run and our defense was really on the mark."

"They got confused as we were continually switching our defense which threw them off balance. We went from our standard man-to-man to a box-and-one and on out-of-bounds situations we went to a 2-1-2 zone."

"Our defensive switches were done without the benefit of a practice. We had a meeting before the game, talked about it and got the team on the floor to go over the positions briefly. A shootout between Lovejoy's 6-6 Center Darryl Winston and 6-3 Devil Ron Henry highlighted the game. Winston barely outscored Henry 25-23, but Henry tagged 10 of his points in the third quarter when the Devils outpointed Brooklyn 18-8."

At the end of each quarter Venice had leads of 12-6, 22-18

Press-Record Sports

and 40-26. Lovejoy tried a comeback, outscoring Venice 20-14 in the final quarter.

Lovejoy had 18 turnovers and the Devils six. From the floor Venice shot 53% hitting 21 of 40 shots. Lovejoy made 22 field goals.

The free-throw line played an important role as Venice tallied 12 to Lovejoy's 2. In the foul department Brooklyn committed 17 and Venice nine. Venice controlled the backboards 28-25.

Adding to the winning effort were Cornelius Wiley with 10 points, Dan Severs 8, Tony Sinton 7 and Ray Mosby 6.

In commenting on Tuesday's action against Nokomis Oltendorf said, "I saw them play a week ago and they are good and have a 22-4 record. They have size, are very physical, seem to shoot and rebound well."

"We will play our basic man-to-man defense and may try to run a bit. They seemed a little void of quickness and we will try to use our speed against them."

Venice downed Lebanon 64-58 and Lovejoy gained revenge for an earlier defeat at the hands of Madison by defeating the local Trojans 85-70 in semi-final games Thursday night in advancing to the final round.

The Red Devils experienced an early scare as Lebanon held a 17-15 lead at the end of the first quarter, but the Devils came back in the second period with 20 markers for a 35-30 advantage at the intermission. It was 53-44 going into the final stanza and VHS coasted in.

Henry took scoring honors in the game with 24 points for the winners. Other Devils in the point column were Wiley with 15, Mosby 9 and Severs and Sinton 8.

The Devils outshot the losers from the field 29 to 21. Lebanon garnered 16 points from the free-throw line while Venice added six. Officials called 16 personal fouls against Venice and eight against Lebanon.

With the loss to Lovejoy, Madison's season came to an end with a record of 14 victories and 11 defeats.

It appeared at first that Coach Larry Graham's Trojans could repeat its triumph over Lovejoy in the Dupo Holiday Tournament as the two teams battled to a 19-19 draw in the first quarter.

But the Wildcats from Brooklyn opened it up in the second period, outscoring Madison 27-12 to take a half-time lead of 46-31 and then went into the final eight minutes with 67-44 advantage. The Trojans finished strong with 26 points, but it was too late.

The Wildcats surge came as the result of a 42-point performance by its ace Darryl Winston.

Anthony Mathews contributed 23 points to the Trojan effort, while 8-2 Charles Lucas added 12, Rudolph Bradley 11, Chris Stanley 10, Jerry Belford 6 and Roger Glasper and Darrell Franklin 4.

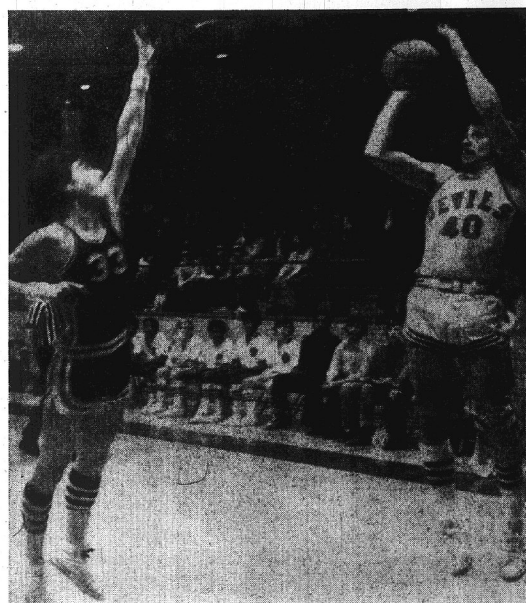

The Wildcats showed their strength from the charity line, garnering 23 free throws to 12 for the Trojans, and barely outshot the losers from the field 30 to 23. Officials called 22 fouls against each team.

It was the final game in the prep careers of four Trojan seniors—Mathews, Glasper, Belford and Lucas. Stanley, Ronny Glasper, Kevin Boy, John Henke, Jeff Stanley and Alvin Wigfall are juniors and Franklin and Bradley are sophomores.

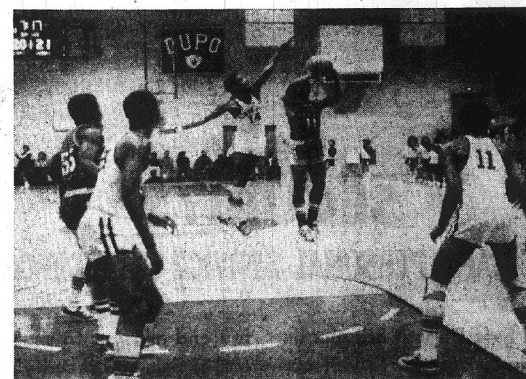

SHORTEST DISTANCE to the basketball goal is sometimes a long distance shot, in this case arched toward the ceiling by Jerry Belford (13), a 5-11 senior guard on the Madison High School quintet.

His Trojans were eliminated 85-70 by Lovejoy in their Dupo regional meet semifinal clash Thursday night. In the picture, three Dupo players wait under the basket for a possible rebound.

INTENSE CONCENTRATION is reflected on the face of Dan Severs (40), six-foot senior Venice High School basketball player, as he jumps and shoots the ball during Thursday night's Dupo regional Class A tournament semifinals. Guarding him is Morris (33) of Lebanon. The Venice Red Devils won 64-58 to advance to the tourney championship game.

CLOSENESS OF THE SCORE is indicated by a 21-20 tally in a Dupo regional basketball game won 85-70 by Lovejoy Thursday. Roger Glasper (11) of Madison High School is shooting in this view of the action, and No. 55 in the green uniform is Alvin Wigfall, 6-3 MHS junior center. It was tied 19-19 after the first quarter but Lovejoy soared to leads of 46-31 at halftime and 67-44 after three periods.

The Edwardsville Tigers (18-6), seeded second, will play fourth-seeded Roxana (13-11) at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday. The championship game is set for 7:30 p.m. Friday.

The winners will advance to the Class AA Sectional Tournament March 13-14 and 16 in East St. Louis.

GCHS Matmen 9th in State Finals, 3 Win Place Honors

The Granite City High School wrestlers finished ninth in the state finals Friday and Saturday at the University of Illinois. Three of the five Warriors who competed in the Assembly Hall placed among the top wrestlers in the state. Phil Lapinski (108 pounds) was fourth, John Niebur (112) finished fifth, and Dan Heath (132) was sixth. Although the Warriors were unable to duplicate the state championship earned in 1965, the ninth-place finish was the highest in recent years as it surpassed 28th in 1971 and the 17th in 1972.

Loss of a dispute concerning one of Niebur's matches cost the Warriors seven points and an assured third place finish.

Fenton of Bensenville won its first state crown with 29½ points. Sterling was second with 25, trailed by Cahokia with 22, Joliet West and Maine East 20, Moline 19, Dixon and East Leyden 18½, Granite City 17½, West Chicago and Bloomington 19.

At the end of Friday's two rounds, Granite City was second behind Fenton 8 to 7½. Two Warriors, Kerry Johnson (119) and Ken Nolen (145), were eliminated during Friday's matches.

The dispute which cost the Warriors third place concerned one point which would have made the difference for Niebur during an over-time match with Gary Matlock of Yorkville, the eventual champion. Matlock has a 34-0 record.

During overtime, Niebur, trailing 3-4, escaped which would have tied the score, but the referee ruled the wrestlers were off the mat when the escape occurred and therefore did not count.

If the score had been tied, it is believed Niebur would have won at the end of overtime on a referee's decision since Matlock had been called for stalling. A victory would have assured Niebur second in the state and possibly a championship.

Niebur defeated Pekin 9-5 and New Trier West 12-2 in Friday's bouts. He then lost to Grant High School in the consolation bout by a fall in 4:58. He rallied in the fifth-place match to down Ed Parkerson of East Leyden 7-5.

Lapinski earned fourth in the state by defeating Evergreen Park 7-3, winning to Joliet Central 3-8, losing a 6-4 decision over St. Charles, pinning his Peoria Woodruff opponent in 3:48, downing Maine West 4-2 and then in his bid for third, losing to Bob Schmidt of East Moline 1-3.

Heath opened with a 7-5 win over Normal University High School, but was pinned in the second round by Glenbard North in 3:05. He won a Mundelein Carmel bout by default when his opponent suffered a shoulder injury and then earned a 1-0 decision over Palatine. In his bid for fifth place, Heath lost 0-4 to Raymond Masek of Kelvyn Park.

Central Game Set

The letterman-faculty basketball game of Central Junior High School will be held at 7 p.m. today in the Granite City High School gym. Advance tickets are 50-cents at the school office and will be 75-cents at the door.

Ten Building Permits List $102,575 Values

Ten building permits listing values totaling $102,575 were issued for new construction in Nameoki and Chouteau Townships during February.

Seven were for Nameoki Township at $74,075 and three were for Chouteau Township at $28,500.

Obtaining permits in Nameoki Township were Glendon K. Mattis, a home in Evergreen Subdivision, $22,000; Harvey H. Kien, a medicare office in State Park Place, $16,000; R.M. Construction, a home in Arlington Heights No. 4, $28,000.

Monte Kessler, a garage addition in Wilshire Manor No. 6, $2,000; and C. B. Builders, three permits to install aluminum siding in State Park Place at costs of $1,695, $1,800 and $1,580.

Permits for Chouteau Township were issued to Lawrence Yust, a watchman's mobile home at Fun-N-Sun Beach Resort, $10,000; M. C. Slater Co., an office and storage area addition, $14,500; and Landon S. Carey, an office building, $4,000.

Aid Clients to Get Funds For Winter Heating Bills

More than 83,000 public assistance households in Illinois will receive a special check this month to apply toward the winter's heating bills.

John Edelman, acting director of the Illinois Department of Public Aid, announced the extra payment after the department's Legislative Advisory Committee approved the expenditure. He said the action was taken because heating bills have been higher than usual in the state this year.

The department's funds for distribution to clients are sufficient to permit it to meet this special need," Edelman commented. "The total cost will be $814,654, and the expenditure can be accommodated within our fiscal 1973 appropriation for assistance grants."

Persons or families who pay their own heating bills will receive the extra check during the month of March, according to Edelman. The amount of the check will be 7.6% of the usual heating allowance for the household — or an average of $8.73 per household.

Edelman said the 7.6% calculation is based on U. S. Weather Bureau records which indicate that temperatures in the state have been approximately 7.6% colder than normal for the heating season.

"Special checks have been issued by the department from time to time when unusual circumstances have warranted action," Edelman said. "We believe the current situation does call for this measure."

Football Cardinals to Aid MS Tag Days Here

Ron Fankowski of the St. Louis Football Cardinals will lead a group of Cardinals players Wednesday to visit Sacred Heart, St. Joseph's, St. Mary's and St. Mark's parochial schools, to be named later, will tour the four junior high schools on Thursday. The visits will be made on behalf of tag days for the Multiple Sclerosis Society.

Fankowski is to visit Sacred Heart, St. Joseph's, St. Mary's and St. Mark's parochial schools, and the Venice school buildings on Wednesday. Stop Thursday will be at Prather, Grigsby, Central and Coolidge junior high schools.

The new program was approved by the Illinois Board of Higher Education in September, and SUE began admitting students into the specialized field of study in November. Additional applications are being considered at the present time for the summer and fall quarters.

Most of the students who complete the program will seek employment as audio-visual directors, media technologists and school librarians. Some of the students are now employed in these fields and are doing graduate work to advance their careers.

The specialized offering is designed to alleviate an acute shortage of qualified audio-visual personnel in the metropolitan area, according to W. Deane Wiley, dean of the SUE Education Division. Teachers now assigned audio-visual duties who lack professional training are being given priority for advancement to the program.

Advanced courses in radio and television broadcasting, offered by the mass communications department at SUE, are incorporated in the new degree program. Candidates for the master's degree also are encouraged to enter an internship program, with major portions of the instruction taking place in actual school settings.

Eldon Madison, an associate professor, is chairman of the department.

Vocational Education Book Receives Acclaim
A book written by Frank Cattaneo, who is completing his work toward a master's degree in special education at the University of Illinois at Edwardsville, is receiving acclaim in the vocational education field.

Several hundred copies of the book, "Shop Made Easy," have been sold to secondary schools in the area. Industrial arts classes, particularly those at slow learners. The book is written in a manner that makes it easy for students with learning difficulties to understand.

A unique feature of the book is the author's personal artwork in woodworking, metalworking, mechanical drawing and plastics. In addition to the artwork, numerous pictures illustrate tools, machines and techniques.

Cattaneo is curriculum coordinator for the vocational program at Belleville East High School. He also has worked with the special education program in the school, and he has a background as an industrial arts instructor at Paris. He also has been associated with the vocational education program at Cahokia.

Cattaneo says he wrote the book on the basis of his practical experience. He hopes to be able to continue working with special education students in the vocational field after he receives his master's degree at SUE this year.

Fire Losses Drop Sharply in Madison
Fire losses in Madison during 1972 averaged $1.63 per person, far below the $2.27 per capita loss in 1971, Elidon Rhoades, chief of the Madison Fire Department, told the Madison City Council last week.

Rhoades said the reduction in fire loss particularly is surprising in light of the explosion and fire in the 500 block of Mason Avenue May 2 which caused about $30,000 damage.

Despite this, the average loss per fire was $41.3, a reduction from the average of $62.37 per fire the year before, Rhoades told the council.

The report also detailed fire calls for January and February of this year. In January the department answered 10 calls and in February, seven calls were received, including two false alarms.

Gateway Delays Move On Landfill Permit

The East-West Gateway Council of Governments delayed action last week on a resolution urging withdrawal of a state permit for expansion of a landfill in Chouteau Township, and at the same time approved water quality interim plans for rural portions of Madison, St. Clair and Monroe counties.

The resolution prepared by the council's environmental task force and asking cancellation of a state permit allowing expansion of Mal landfill was tabled because the matter had not been discussed by Gateway's executive advisory committee. Permits for expansion of the landfill have been granted by the Illinois Pollution Control Board and the Madison County Board.

The water quality interim plans were prepared by the Western Metropolitan Area Planning Commission to qualify rural areas for federal and state funds for upgrading public and private sewage facilities.

THE DIRTY DOZEN ARE STILL AROUND

It is 1973 and we have improved health and living conditions generally. Along with this we have developed specific ways to identify diseases, treat them and sometimes prevent them by the use of vaccines. But, despite this vast improvement, a threat to life still exists today from a group of well known killers who have been around for a long time.

1. Polio
2. Diphtheria
3. Tetanus
4. Measles
5. Small pox
6. Influenza
7. Typhoid
8. Cholera
9. Rubella
10. Rabies
11. Botulism
12. Hepatitis

It takes constant surveillance and quick reaction by health authorities at all levels to prevent epidemics and keep these killers under control.

Recycling for Ecology Shows Economic Snags

By JOAN MURARO
Copley News Service

Springfield — If "Ecology" has become nearly a new religion, "recycle" is its credo.

Everybody from little old ladies in arch supports to ecology-oriented youngsters in sneakers are being urged to recycle their paper, their bottles, their cans, their rags. Scouts have made a collection of recyclable items as a project, the Salvation Army has collected glass, and housewives have organized clubs to preach and practice recycling.

Unfortunately, unless techniques and attitudes change, it seems the recycled materials themselves could become a new form of litter.

Though it sounds as if reusing previously-used materials a second or third time should be less expensive (used cars are cheaper than new cars, aren't they?) it doesn't work out that way.

In addition, the quality of raw materials is often regarded as superior, and since it usually costs no more to obtain raw materials than to acquire recycled resources, most industries prefer to continue using virgin materials.

Despite widespread pushing for recycling efforts, use of recycled material in U.S. industry has actually declined in the last decade.

Presently, the 210 million citizens in the U.S. throw away more than 615,000 tons of waste each day. As far back as 1967 there were between 32 and 68 million tons of scrap metal available, but only 29 million tons of it were used in the combined domestic and export market.

In the same year, the last one for which figures were available, 12.8 million tons of glass were consumed in the U.S., but only 600,000 tons of cullet (waste glass) went into it.

Part of the problem is the work required. Glass to be recycled must have all metal removed and must be sorted by color. Paper going to a mill for recycling contains one rubber band, one paper clip, one staple. Synthetics have enormous numbers of different chemical makeups, making it almost impossible to sort them into compatible groups.

Some individuals have started recycling businesses which survived and even show a little profit, while a lot more sprang up like the Biblical seed among grains, and as quickly died. One in Champlain started out

Lack of OEO Budget to Cut Many Services in County

By the REV. JOHN Q. OWENS JR.
Board Chairman,
Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission

President Nixon's budget for the fiscal year starting in July 1973 eliminates the Office of Economic Opportunity. What effect will that have in Madison County?

In Madison County, OEO funds the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission. The EOC provides programs for residents in areas of social services from infants to senior citizens.

The Well-Baby Clinic is set up to provide health screening and immunization for infants and children of school age. Referrals are made to local physicians when health irregularities are discovered.

Summer Head Start provides youngsters with an introduction to school and its activities while also providing nutritious meals, health screening, and dental check-ups.

A Family Planning Clinic provides assistance to families who are looking for help in planning their families so that they can have some control over the number and frequency of children.

Referrals are made to local physicians whenever help is needed beyond the resources of the clinic.

The Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission

economic Opportunity Commission also offers a range of programs to senior citizens including transportation to doctors, food stamps, and cultural and recreational activities at senior centers, including assistance through a system for information and referral which attempts to help seniors solve problems which they are unable to solve with their own resources.

Home Health Aides are available through the visiting nurses and family services to provide care for those senior citizens who are bedridden or are returning from a hospital stay.

Youth activities include tutoring for youngsters seeking help with their school work and part time jobs to provide an introduction to the business world as well as a few dollars to pay school costs.

Finally, our community action agency is set up to help develop and seek out funding for social programs to meet the needs of any and all communities in Madison County.

These are the services, currently being provided by the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission through its grant from the Office of Economic Opportunity.

TV Movie on Steel Imports Set Today

The title refers to the employee who has been replaced as a steelworker by a foreign steel mill.

The film has the backing of top executives of both management and labor and is being shown to mill employees across the country.

Grant Store Has New Name—"Grant City"

Melvin L. Gillie, manager of the Grant Store at 20 Nameoki Village, announced today that his store is one of more than 450 in the 1,200-store W. T. Grant chain of general merchandise stores that is officially changing its designation to "Grant City."

Identification on the store front and in all its advertising will carry the "Grant City" name.

Gillie noted that his company in the past five years has opened many large new stores across the country; stores big enough to offer its customers full lines of apparel, housewares, home needs and major appliances, along with everyday family needs.

"It is our management's conviction that there are now sufficient numbers of such larger stores to provide them with special merchandising and promotion ... to make them dramatically different from the smaller Grant stores which offer limited lines of merchandise," he said.

During 1972, W. T. Grant Co. opened 92 new stores, adding more than seven million gross square feet of new selling space. Sales for the year exceeded $1,644,000,000.

MR. AND MRS. DAVID LEVY, who exchanged wedding vows at St. Joseph Catholic Church. The bride is the former Miss Karen Ann Kelly, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kelly, 1423 Third St., Madison.

St. Joseph Church Scene Of Levy-Kelly Wedding

Miss Karen Ann Kelly, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kelly, 1423 Third St., Madison, and David Michael Levy, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Levy, 3023 Nameoki Drive, were united in marriage Feb. 24 at St. Joseph Catholic Church.

Arrangements of yellow and white flowers adorned the altar for the double ring ceremony, performed at 1 p.m. by the Rev. Henry Maciejko.

Following the arrival of the wedding party, Mrs. Cleta Judd, organist, played "Love Story" and "The Wedding Song."

For her wedding, the bride chose a white tulle gown designed with a Empire bodice, featuring a V-neckline defined with a narrow waist. Long lantern sleeves were trimmed at the wrists with Venice lace.

Venice lace marked the high rise waistline and accented the slightly gathered skirt with two rows of lace extending to the hemline.

Seed pearls and lace formed the bonnet style cap that secured an elbow-length veil. She carried a colonial bouquet of blue and white mums festooned with long white satin streamers.

Miss Michelle Kelly, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She was attired in a blue silk frock enhanced with white Chantilly lace trim. A nose up veil was held in place with a blue floral headpiece and she carried a colonial bouquet of yellow and white mums.

The groom chose his brother, William Levy, as best man. David Kelly and Eddie Levy, brothers of the bride, acted as the groomsmen.

A reception was held at the Polish Hall in Madison following the service.

A graduate of Madison High School, the former Miss Kelly is employed at Silk Beer and Fallers Co., St. Louis. Mr. Levy was graduated from Venice High School in 1971 and works for the Venice Gas and Oil Co.

The newly married couple is residing in Madison following a wedding trip to the Ozarks.

Kids ask the darndest questions!

DAD, YOU WERE TELLING ME THAT THE POWER COMPANY HAS TO MAKE ELECTRICITY. THE SAME TIME YOU USE IT, RIGHT?

WELL, HOW DID THEY KNOW I WAS GOING TO TURN ON THE LIGHT?

WELL, IT'S THEIR BUSINESS TO BE READY WITH ELECTRICITY WHEN YOU WANT IT. THEY PROBABLY STARTED GETTING READY FOR YOU TO TURN ON THE LIGHT TEN OR FIFTEEN YEARS AGO.

... SO THEY HAD TO BUILD ENOUGH POWER PLANTS TO BE READY FOR YOU AND THEY HAVE TO KEEP ON BUILDING THEM...

WELL, THEY COULD SEE ALL THE NEW FAMILIES BEING STARTED AND THEY FIGURED THERE'D BE A LOT MORE PEOPLE TURNING ON LIGHTS AND ALL KINDS OF ELECTRIC THINGS.

I WASN'T EVEN BORN THEN HOW'D THEY KNOW ABOUT ME?

At Illinois Power Company we have to provide the energy you need, the instant you need it. That's our business. But using energy wisely is everybody's business.

Girl Scouts to Start 61st Anniversary Week

Starting Sunday and continuing throughout next week, Girl Scouts across the country will be celebrating the 61st anniversary of the founding of the Girl Scout movement in the United States.

"In a week of celebrating, we will not only celebrate our birthday, but emphasize with our own membership and the community at large that Girl Scouting is a vital part of the American heritage, and the world of tomorrow," Mrs. Billie Laumbach, River Bluffs Council president, said.

Quadrant Girl Scouts and Brownies will begin the annual observance Saturday, with displays of their handicraft and other creative programs in windows of local business places.

Sunday will mark the start of the official anniversary week when scouts will attend church, in uniform, with other troop members or services at their own places of worship.

Other events are scheduled to take place on Tuesday, March 13, designated as "Citizenship Day," with most schools holding Girl Scout ceremonies before the start of classes, and Saturday, March 17, when troop meetings in the area is planned, conforming to "Outdoor Day."

Girl Scout troops and Brownies also will present programs at PTA meetings during March, Mrs. Laumbach said.

Brownies probably will attend the various activities next week wearing new uniforms, approved at the national convention last fall, the council president advised.

The uniforms, available since Jan. 1, are called "get-up-and-go" outfit and feature a new concept in Brownie attire geared to the individual girl's life-style, she explained.

Brownies may choose from five coordinated separates such as a white short-sleeved jumper with large pockets; slacks with a slightly flared leg and elasticized waist; shirts with a white blouse with brown turtleneck stripes; and a rib-unit turtleneck shirt with long sleeve, she said.
